She appreciated the opportunity to hear from Matt Miller, author of AI for Educators: Learning Strategies, Teacher Efficiencies, and a Vision for an Artificial Intelligence Future about the emerging AI and the amount of assistance it can give educators to supplement lessons, expedite tasks, and serve as a timesaver for educators to focus on executing curriculum. She thanked Deputy Superintendent Beth Gonzalez for being a gracious host.

- Huron - Last school year, students and staff at Huron High School in New Boston formed a brand new robotics team to compete in the FIRST Robotics Competition—an international competition where teams design, program, and build a robot to compete against others in various games. The rookie season for Huron Tech Tr1be #9182 was supposed to gather interest and ideas to get the team ready for the next season. Things changed quickly when the team of over 25 students was offered funding and ended up making it all the way to the world competition in Houston, Texas. Congratulations to the students and mentors involved. RESA looks forward to what the robotics team will do this school year.
- Lincoln Park - Hundreds of Lincoln Park students started the school year with school supplies thanks in large part to the Lincoln Park Police Department. With the support of the Lincoln Park Exchange Club, Lincoln Park Chamber of Commerce, and the Lincoln Park Presbyterian Church, more than 600 students started the school year off in style with the supplies needed to be successful throughout the year.
- Melvindale-Northern Allen Park – Congratulations to Mel-NAP for a successful ribbon cutting ceremony and opening of the new Melvindale High School on August 23.
- Romulus – Romulus Community Schools received $1,000,000 from the State of Michigan Education Committee toward the advancement of Career and Technology Education (CTE). State Senator, Darrin Camilleri, 4th District, presented an award, along with Romulus Mayor Robert McCraight and State Representative, District 26, Dylan Wegela during the 2nd Annual Birdies 4 Eagles Golf Outing, which benefited the Romulus Band Boosters last month.

Superintendent Dr. Daveda Colbert

Dr. Daveda Colbert shared:

- The 2023-2024 School Year has kicked off with all students returning to school, some before Labor Day and the majority of students returning on September 5.
 - This year is the first opportunity for universal meals (breakfast and lunch for students) that is not part of a pandemic support package. This opportunity removes the free and reduced lunch stigma that will benefit all school districts.
 - School Safety and Mental Health remain a priority in Wayne County. The OK2SAY program is still in place and districts are encouraged to post and use the program where students, parents and school staff are able to submit confidential tips if they see or hear something that threatens student, staff, and/or school safety.
 - The 988 Crisis Lifeline number is also active and encouraged in hopes of supporting students, families, and staff in need of mental health support.
 - Wayne County is celebrating district data points, in particular, 75% of school districts showing improvement in grades 3-8 in Literacy and 72% of school districts showing improvement in grades 3 -8 in Math. As we highlight academic growth, including improvements in Science and Social Studies, we are also aware that many students have not reached pre-pandemic levels. We will continue to focus on intentional supports to ensure academic growth for all students.
 - RESA will continue to support Wayne County Schools as efforts continue to heighten to improve student outcomes and increase academic performance throughout the County with an intentional focus on School Safety and Mental Health supports, as well as, evidenced based, results driven Literacy and Math supports.
- The focus within the RESA organization continues to be culture building and high level of service, leadership, and collaboration in the pursuit of equity and excellence in all things. It is important that we keep those focus areas throughout the entire year. Printed copies of the Wayne RESA 2023-2034 Goals/Areas of Focus document were issued to the RESA Board of Education. Thanks are extended to the Board, Superintendent, and the RESA Team for developing the goals and areas of focus that will guide our work throughout the year.
- The Gilead Project – New Beacon Day Treatment Center is moving forward with expectations that the building will be ready for students in September 2024. This is a full year commitment from the RESA Team including technology and facilities departments. Special thanks to Kelly Bohl, Drew McMechan, Rob McCoy, Dr. Jennifer Taiariol, Dr. Gary Puhl, and Vita Lusk for working in collaboration with the School District of the City of Lincoln Park. This is a huge transition, and Lincoln Park has had great things to say about the continuous partnership on this endeavor.

- RESA is part of the solution regarding teacher shortages in Wayne County. Special thanks to Dr. Jennifer Taiariol and the RESA Special Education Team, Beth Gonzalez, and the Educational Services Team. Kelly Bohl, and Mike Latvis for their work, leadership and advocacy, and being intentional about providing solutions to the educator shortage crisis.
 - RESA's Special Education and Early Intervention Services Department partnerships with Eastern Michigan University (EMU) and Wayne State University (WSU) for Para-to-Teacher alternative certification programs is providing alternative certification pathways for 100 candidates enrolled in the university's programs (50 –EMU and 50–WSU).
 - RESA is also a leader in the Talent Together apprenticeship model that meets candidates where they are in their education and designs plans for them to become certified teachers at the end of their experience.
 - Also, thanks to the Education Improvement Consultants for creating opportunities to aid candidates taking the MTTC test in hopes of successful completion as part of the certification process.
- Wayne County's Manufacturing Day is Thursday, October 5, 2023. Dr. Colbert has been coordinating a schedule with Jason Evers, RESA Career Technical/Adult Education Consultant, to make visits to events scheduled on October 5. Organizers are still encouraging businesses and organizations to participate and host students as part of Manufacturing Day so students can get hands-on, real world opportunities to understand the potential benefits of a career in manufacturing.
- A communication was forwarded to LEA and PSA Superintendents regarding the Pathfinder resource, an online career exploration and planning tool for students in grades 8 – 12 designed to help increase the number of Michigan residents with high-quality, in-demand degrees and credentials by connecting students with career opportunities and colleges to show different career pathways. School Leadership has been receptive to the tool that they can share with their families and students as a resource to continue to increase the number of students who are college and career ready as they exit Wayne County school districts.
- RESA's largest and most targeted advertising campaign to date for GSRP was highlighted by Dr. Colbert referencing the Wayne RESA Communications presentation the Board: Building our Brand to Improve Student Outcomes. We are encouraging every family to consider the research based, high quality, no cost, pre-school programming offered in Wayne County. Seats are available in every area of the county.
- As RESA continues to elevate all things around education, Dr. Colbert attributed great things happening throughout the organization to the great team members within the organization. The HR Department was highlighted for their work with the hiring and transition of staff. RESA continues to maintain a retention rate of over 85% and will continue to build culture and be competitive in the space by adding different opportunities like the addition of the Cross Street Café in the Education Center that was presented to Board.
