Superintendent Dr. Daveda Colbert

Dr. Daveda Colbert shared:

- RESA remembers the nearly 3,000 people who were killed on September 11, 2001, and the more than 6,000 individuals who were injured in the unprecedented attacks and senseless tragedy. We honor the memory of each of the lives lost, their families, friends, and loved ones, and the sacrifice to save lives on this day 23 years ago.
- School year 2024-2025 began senselessly and sadly in Winder, Georgia with the school shooting that occurred at Apalachee High School. Gun violence in schools is unacceptable and unimaginable and affects all of us. We must continue to lift and wrap our arms around all school communities across the country as we recognize the continuous need for mental health supports and the importance of school safety and mental health funding for our schools. We will continue to educate and train staff and students to ensure they have the resources needed to manage and cope and continue to teach and learn in safe environments. RESA will continue to support each other and our constituent districts.
- Weather issues impacted opening of schools for some districts in Wayne County causing districts to close school or have early dismissals due to rising temperatures. Storms also impacted Wayne County schools and the Wayne RESA campuses. Special thanks to the RESA Building Services and Operations Teams for their diligence in ensuring a safe and functional campus following the storm.

- On Thursday, September 5, 2024, Dr. Colbert was invited to attend United States Secretary of Education, Dr. Miguel Cardona's 2024 Back to School Bus Tour: Fighting for Public Education during his stop at Cass Technical High School in Detroit Public Schools Community District. She had the opportunity to speak with and hear from students, as well as spend time with several members of the Detroit Public Schools Community District Board of Education, Superintendent Dr. Nikolai Vitti, Former Congresswoman Brenda Lawrence, Congressman Shri Thenadar, State Representative Regina Weiss, Wayne County Commissioner Alisha Bell, and State Superintendent Dr. Michael Rice.
- While touring in Michigan, Secretary Cardona heard from Talent Together participants during his stop in Lansing and expressed his excitement about the work.
- The Association of Educational Service Agencies (AESAs) featured a national headline about RESA in their Online News publication on September 10, 2024. The article speaks to Wayne Regional Educational Service Agency being one of the 16 grant recipients awarded nearly $25 million by the Michigan Department of Education to fund K-5 mathematics programs aimed at improving math instruction and learning recovery. RESA has pledged to use the $1.8 million it received to ensure its educators and students can access "high-quality, highly aligned, and culturally relevant math instructional materials."
- The RESA All-Staff meeting was a success showcasing how RESA continues to step up and lead the way. During a previous all-staff meeting, the Workforce Development Team produced a department video that led the charge for each RESA department to produce introductory and informative videos about their departments that were presented during the September 6 meeting. Special thanks to the RESA Communications Team for supporting and assisting departments as we continue to grow, elevate, and improve.
- Dr. Colbert, Beth Gonzalez, Deputy Superintendent of Educational Services and Dr. Markita Hall, Executive Director of Educational Services, along with Educational Improvement Consultants, have meetings scheduled with partnership districts for their 18-month review to assess progress made towards goals set in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Education. Dr. Hall will present to the Board in February on districts' improved practices and student performance outcomes.
- State testing data was released this month. A deep dive into the data will be presented to the Board during the October meeting.
- A reminder that the Wayne County Regional Enhancement Millage Renewal will be on the November 5, 2024 ballot in Wayne County. We continue to work aggressively on the informational campaign daily.
